

Grafting Demo and Starting Subtropicals from Seed with Cory Krell, Lena Shiroma and Richard Reid

This month, we will be having some demonstrations on grafting deciduous and subtropical plants. We shall go over equipment required, proper technique as well as demonstrations of various different types of grafts along with a discussion of the benefits, drawbacks and specific uses of the different grafts.

We will also have a short presentation on how to obtain and germinate seeds of subtropical fruiting plants. We shall go over tips, tricks and techniques as well as how to care for your seedlings.

We hope this will be an interactive meeting, so please bring lots of questions and experiences to share so that we can all learn from each other.
